INSURGENTS HAVE NOT YET MADE THE ATTACK ON JUAREZ AS PLANNED

FEDERAL FORCES ARE ANXIOUSLY WAITING REINFORCE-
MENTS TO MAKE STRONG DEFENSE.

FIGHT MAY START SOON

Rebel Army Is Nearing the City From the South and All Is Prepared for Bloody Conflict.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 4.—The federal forces in Juarez are anxiously awaiting reinforcements and this afternoon frantically began throwing up breast-works about the city. A dispatch says Gen. Rabago with a large force of government troops is marching toward Juarez from Casas Grandes.
The federal garrison at Juarez now numbers 600.

The official notice of the intended attack upon Juarez reached the American consul at 10:30 last night. In this notice Gen. Orozco said he would attack within twenty-four hours.
Couriers from his camp, ten miles from Juarez, this morning said he expected first to reconnoiter the town before striking, and that he was awaiting reinforcements.

Juarez, too, was looking for reinforcements from the other garrisons but the revolutionists said none might be looked for from the south where Rabago and his shattered command were.

Gen. Orozco told friends yesterday
he intended making Juarez the capital of Mexico and rallying all of his forces
there, in start on a march south against Chihuahua City and ultimately against Mexico City.

At five o'clock this morning Juarez
is lined with soldiers, police, guards.
Federal and state rurales, expecting attack any moment.

It is now considered certain that Juarez will put up only a perfunctory defense when attacked by the insurgents. The Orozco were less than ten miles away at day break and the attack was expected before night. Flagship of half a dozen nations is a signal that the property is owned by foreigners.

Other Fighting.
Presidio, Tex., Feb. 4.—Fighting between the insurgents and federal troops under Gen. Dorantes has been renewed around Coyame. The insurgents attacked the federal troops when Gen. Dorantes attempted to lead his command back to Ojinaga.

It is declared Gen. Dorantes' troops looted Cuernavaca Parada during their flight following the insurgent attack.
More than one hundred, insurgents are now camped in a village near Molalo.

American cavalrymen are enroute from Marfa, Texas to this point and are expected tonight. At present Deputy Marshall Warren is the sole representative of the United States in more than 100 miles of the border.
Single handed, he has resisted several bands of insurgents who were using the American side of the river as a highway.

STORY OF REBELLION.
New York, Feb. 4.—The rebel army is made up of 12,000 earnest men, well armed, while the government has only 2,000 apathetic soldiers, is the assertion of Gustavo A. Madero, the younger brother of Francisco I. Madero leader of the Mexican revolution. "The revolution will be a success. My brothers' forces have already captured eight towns and bands have been organized in ten states."

Young Madero is here in New York, presumably to awaken American interest and sympathy in the insurrectionary cause.

"President Diaz brought on the revolution himself," declared Madero.
"He stated long before the election
that he would welcome opposition,
but when candidates appeared to oppose him Diaz persecuted them.
When my brother became a candidate for the presidency, Diaz and his troops prevented meetings, my brother was thrown into jail, subsequently released and fled across the border.
His followers were made to suffer.
These persecutions resulted in the planning of an uprising on Nov. 20, but the government troops threw into jail. This, however, only served to precipitate matters and on Nov. 13,
the uprising started at Puebla and has since spread."

"The revolutionists have lots of money behind them," concluded
Madero "and they expect to win."
General Pasquel Orozco, commander of the revolutionary army which assailed Juarez is a remarkable product of Mexico. Only 28 years old he was brought up on the ranch of his father, a small cattleman near Chihuahua. The boy rode the range for his father from the time he was old enough to straddle a pony and became an adept with revolver and rifle being able to hit a coin at 200 yards without a miss. When he was 17 he left the ranch and went to Chihuahua and became a commission merchant.

During the last presidential campaign in Mexico Orozco became a supporter of Francisco I. Madero and when the revolution broke out he volunteered as the personal escort
General Abraham Gonzalez provisional governor of Chihuahua. Gonzalez was a brave man, but lost his nerve two months ago at Guerrero. His troops had captured the town after a siege of 14 days. The federal troops took their final refuge in a block house,
where many revolutionary sympathizers were also quartered. Gonzalez declined to blow up the block house and the federalists seemed able to hold out until the net was accomplished. While Gonzalez was hesitating, Orozco jumped out in front of the troops and cried that the block house must be blown up and that he would take the responsibility for doing so. He asked the men if they would follow him. His enthusiasm carried the day and he was proclaimed their leader. The block house was blown up, the federalists surrendered and the day was won. Since that time Orozco has been the leader of the revolutionists in Chihuahua.

PREPARE FOR BATTLE.

President Will Attend Anniversary Feast in Springfield Next Week.
—Other Events Forecasted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—President Taft will take a hurried trip to Springfield, Ill., at the end of the week to attend the Lincoln anniversary banquet in that city. On his way to the Lincoln capital the President will make a brief stop in Columbus, to speak at the National Civil Exposition.
The meeting of the National and legislative called for Wednesday will attract more than ordinary attention outside the city from the fact that the proposed federal regulations recently enacted with the United States will be up for consideration and action.

The initiative and referendum and a number of other questions of public importance are included in the agenda of the Minnesota legislature, which will assemble in regular session Thursday.

The event of the week in the world will be the international world-

NEW PARLIAMENT TO OPEN MONDAY

Usual State Ceremony To Accompany Assembling Of England's National Legislative Body.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Feb. 4.—Everything is in readiness for the opening of Parliament Monday. In view of the stringent national issues with which the assembly of the House is bound to deal the event is certain to attract extraordinary attention. It is learned that the great care has been taken to bring to the fore any suffragette demonstration in the vicinity of Westminster on the day of opening.

The day will be a more impossible than that to be witnessed in the House of Lords when Parliament is opened by the King with the full state ceremony. It is customary for the King to wear the brilliant uniform of field marshal, which is partly carried by his great state robes.
The Queen wears over her sleeves a cloak of anony ermine.
Her small diamond crown and the bright ribbon of the Order of the Garter add to the brilliant effects of her attire.

of Texas has adopted the plan.

PRIZE NATURE-FAKE STORY FROM VIENNA

Man in Public Insane Asylum There Swallowed Fourteen Iron Spoons,
So Runs the Tale.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Vienna, Feb. 4.—A suicidal operation by which 23½ pounds of metal were taken from the patient, was performed here today at the Franz Joseph hospital by Professor Lothelsen upon a man of 40, named Tacha. He had been confined in a public lunatic asylum, where, about three months ago,
he secretly abstracted about fourteen iron spoons and swallowed them. This strange nourishment at first caused him no annoyance. The spoons were missed, but nobody suspected their whereabouts.

Although Tacha has sound lungs, he began spitting blood some days ago,
and was cross-questioned, until at last he confessed that he had swallowed the iron spoons. He was taken to the hospital, and an application of the Roentgen rays soon showed the truth of his assertion. An operation was unavoidable, and the three surgeons who carried it through were completely successful. A small opening was made in the stomach, where the intervals were laid bare for the purpose, and one by one the large spoons were extracted. They weighed altogether 23½ pounds. The patient's condition is satisfactory, and he will soon be able to be discharged from the hospital.

IS TO TEST LAW IN THE SUPREME COURT

Attorney General To Try and Force Acceptance Of His Views On Civil Service.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 4.—The controversy over the appointment of a second assistant attorney general, to the vacancy caused by the death of Frank T. Tucker last August, probably will reach the supreme court in about a month, in a form calculated to test the constitutionality of the laws affecting the civil service system. It will be a landmark proceeding, to compel the auditing of the payroll of the attorney general's department, or at least that portion which will give H.
J. Castle a portion of the $2,500 a year which is attached to the position of second assistant.

The civil service commission will meet on Feb. sixth, at which time it is expected the decision on the petition of Attorney General Hancock for the exemption of the position from the merit law will be announced. This decision in all likelihood will be against Hancock. Thereupon Mr. Hancock is expected to appeal. Castle and wait until the end of the month to bring the matter to the courts.

Janesville's Great White Way

Electric Signs and Well Lighted Displays on Milwaukee Street Impress Strangers.

Do you realize that Janesville is a brighter, bigger-looking town in the evening than most cities of its size? Every merchant who has well-lighted display windows contributes to this powerful influence on strangers; but he also helps himself.

We are now finding out that next to newspaper advertising, well-lighted, right priced, authentic style displays in the windows are the best trade pullers. Everybody must notice them; and if the goods and prices are right, as ours seem to be, must buy.

We attribute the success of our present sale largely to the special displays in our windows—displays of this season's styles that we must force out to make room for the many shipments of spring goods now in transit from the factories.

SPEAKER CANNON GETS HEAVY MAIL

Cranks Pick Him Out to Write to And All Letters Peculiarly Addressed Go to "Uncle Joe."

Washington, Feb. 4.—Who is "The Queen of England"? "The Government of the United States"? "His Majesty, the Head of the Government"? and "Uncle Joe" all rolled into one?

A highly intelligent corps of post-office clerks in Washington have already found that rare combination in the person of Joseph Gurney Cannon, speaker of the House of Representatives.

Cannon is known far and wide as "Uncle Joe," the "Iron Duke of American Politics," "The Czar of the House" and, perhaps, owing to his vigorous, by some other rather more opprobrious nicknames, but the government, through the postoffice department, apparently gives substantiation to the complaint of insurgents that "Uncle Joe" is the main work in the machinery of government.

Probably no man in official Washington receives as many peculiar epistles as the speaker. Cranks all over the country seem to single him out as a correspondent. Within the past month "Uncle Joe" has received a letter advising him that he is heir to a fortune running into millions (purely mythical); a letter purporting to have been written by a patriotic American girl, warning against Japanese spies; a night-letter of about 250 words, demanding abolition of the United States senate; and a letter addressed to "The Queen of England" demanding protection against spies.

Readings of poetry deluge the speaker's mail. Confused with reform schemes write him many-sided communications; inventors ask aid; beggars pray for assistance; the army of the jobless demand places on the payroll; enthusiastic republicans write to congratulate or condemn his views, and finally, plain cranks submit all their grievances to him.

Most of this sort of mail matter never reaches the speaker. It is assigned to the waste-basket, by a White House, "Uncle Joe's" secretary. Occasionally, however, some particularly unique communication reaches the speaker's desk, and, like as not, the iron duke of American politics writes a letter in reply.

It seems to be the rule in the Washington postoffice that when a letter is received, addressed to some power who doesn't exist, it is referred to the speaker.

HOBOKEN POLICE ARE LOOKING FOR YOUTH

Sixteen Year Old John Rohner Wanted For Stealing Over $1200 in Money.

Police authorities at Hoboken, N. J., this morning wired Chief of Police Appleby asking him to be on the watch for John Rohner, aged 16, who absconded from the Union Hill office of Hoboken, with between twelve and thirteen hundred dollars in money. The cash consisted of ten one hundred dollar bills and some $4.00 in checks and other securities, part of which are not negotiable. Rohner is with an Italian boy and may be around Hoboken about five feet six inches in height, with dark hair, pale face and protruding mouth and has a sickly appearance.

WAS HAPPY CELEBRATION OF THE SEVENTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Children of Mrs. Eliza Jones Gather at Her Home to Be With Her on Occasion.

(Special to the Gazette.)—Evanville, Feb. 3.—The children of Mrs. Eliza Jones met at her home today to celebrate her seventy-eighth birthday anniversary. She has one daughter and six sons, and they were all present except one son, George, who lives in Canada. The others are Mrs. Lizzie Williams and Walter Jones of Albany, Wis.; Messrs. Lauren, Alfred, Charley and Thomas Jones of Evanville. She also has thirty-two grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. An elaborate dinner was served at twelve o'clock and the afternoon was happily spent.

Issued invitations. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Powles have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Dr. Ernest Denson. The wedding will occur Wednesday, Feb. 15, at high noon.

Personal. Mrs. A. O. Moore was taken very ill Wednesday at the home of her son, Charles S. Moore. She is suffering from blood poisoning caused by a scratch on her hand. She is reported some better this afternoon.

Dr. C. M. Smith, Dr. O. C. Colony, Dr. J. W. Ames and Ray Hyno spent yesterday at the auto show in Chicago. Mrs. Max Fisher returned yesterday from Milwaukee where she has been spending a few days as the guest of Mrs. Warren Rowley.

Miss Blanche Crow of Beloit spent Thursday afternoon in Evanville. The marriage of Miss Annie Edmond and Warren Reese took place at Monroe, Tuesday, Jan. 31. After a brief honeymoon trip the couple will be at home on the W. A. Reese farm four miles west of this city.

Rev. H. D. Pay returned the first of the week from Oshkosh where he has been for the past two weeks conducting revival services. He left today for Chicago where he went in the interest of the seminary.

The Y. W. M. S. of the Baptist church met yesterday afternoon with Miss Edith Hyno.

Miss Cora Carpenter has as her guest today, Mrs. McIntyre of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Wright of Beloit are here for a brief visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Waship.

Mrs. Warren Cain entertained the Embroidery club this afternoon.

Mrs. Orville Jones and little son have been sick for the past two weeks, the former with grippe, and the little boy with a gathering in the head.

Mrs. J. W. Ames visited in Janesville on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wolfe, Sr., returned today from a brief visit with Madison relatives.

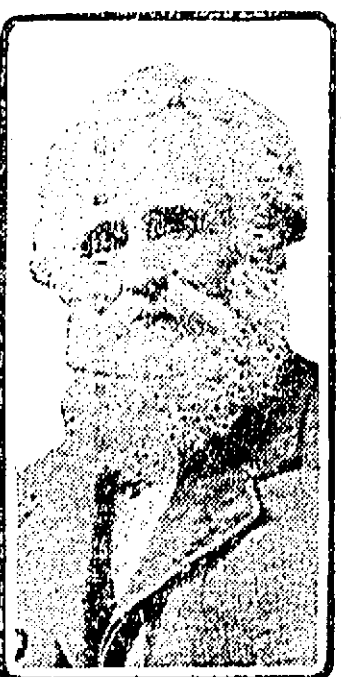

Mrs. Max Fisher is substituting today in the seventh grade for Miss Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dwinell will leave Saturday for their home in Brownstown, Minn.

FIGHTING FOR THE EDDY MILLIONS.

W. E. Chandler, ex-governor of New Hampshire, attorney for the heirs of the late Mary Baker Eddy. At right, George W. Glover, only son of the founder of Christian Science.

Hoboken, Mass.—The fight over the estate of the late Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, threatens to be one of the most interesting and strenuously fought will cases in recent years. The heirs, led by Mrs. Eddy's only son, George W. Glover, have employed ex-Gov. William E. Chandler of New Hampshire and he gave the public a sensation when he announced that her will was null and void, inasmuch as the laws prohibited giving more than $5,000 annually to any religious denomination.

The directors of the First church are thoroughly aware of the serious condition, but optimistically maintain the courts will uphold the will.

OBITUARY.

Ferdinand Schwank.

Funeral services for the late Ferdinand Schwank will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the home, 628 South Franklin street, and at half past two from St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. C. J. Koerner will officiate.

Queen Alexandra at Coronation.

The whole of the crown regalia in the Jewel house at the Tower of London is now being overhauled and burnished for the coronation next June, while a new state crown is being prepared for Queen Mary. This will be very similar to that worn by Queen Alexandra at the previous ceremony. Queen Alexandra will, by the way, wear this crown again, and will sit on the left hand of the king during the whole ceremony. It is many years since the mother of a British sovereign last assisted at a coronation.

Changesableness of Fashion.

If fashion were only limited to dress! Unfortunately, there is a fashion in art and a fashion in literature as changeable as the style of hats and gowns, and often as absurd. —Gaulois, Paris.

BICYCLE ON RAILS

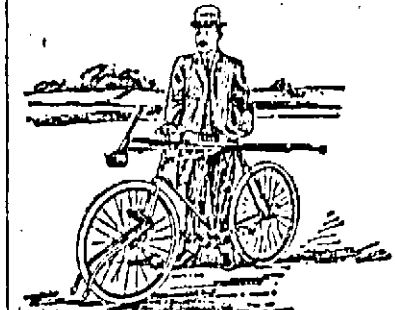

INGENIOUS INVENTION TO BE CREDITED TO FRANCE.

Seemingly Every Contingency is Provided for in Machine That Surely Should Be Capable of Making Fast Time.

A set of attachments, by which the ordinary bicycle can be made to run on a railroad track, has been brought out in France and is said to be meeting with perfect success.

Two distinct attachments are used, one to insure the straight running of the bicycle and the other to maintain the equilibrium. The first mentioned consists of a set of forks attached to the regular forks of the bicycle. The lower ends of these forks bear ball rollers and these, coming in contact with each side of the rail, resist derailment without resulting in enough friction to impede the speed of the rider.

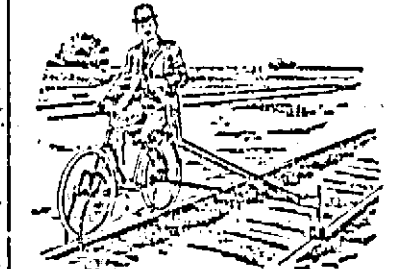

The second attachment is a light bicycle-tube framework, bearing a roller at its outer end. This frame is made fast to the bicycle under the saddle and at the hub of the rear wheel, and extends to the second track of the railway. The roller it carries runs on the top of this rail and maintains the equilibrium of the machine.

The possibility of one track being higher than the other, as at curves in the road, is provided for by means of the light bar that runs along the top of the framework supporting the out-riding roller. This, operated by a handle within reach of the rider, engages with a mechanism which allows the roller to be vertically extended or drawn closer to the end of the framework, thus making possible the proper pitch of the machine, so that it will always be slightly leaning towards the second rail.

Bicycle in Position on Rail.

When the bicycle is in ordinary use, the out-riding roller and its framework are attached to the upper bar of the frame and the set of forks is raised clear of the ground.—Popular Mechanics.

Claims and Realities

It is a fact known to every newspaper reader that nearly all piano advertisements make practically the same claims.

No more can be said for the instrument of artistic merit than is said daily for many pianos of mediocre or inferior quality.

If the statements with which the merits of many low grade pianos are exploited were true there would be no sense in paying the price asked for those of reputation and demonstrated value.

BUT EVERY PERSON OF INTELLIGENCE KNOWS that there is a difference in the musical and constructive qualities of various instruments. For that reason, whatever may be the reputation, one cannot expect to get a fine piano at a price which would be fair for one of only ordinary merit, although in any case the buyer should get his money's worth.

In justice to our patrons we draw the distinction very closely between the different grades. We have high priced pianos and also pianos marked at very moderate figures.

Each of these is represented for exactly what it is and it is marked at no more than its actual value.

We invite prospective purchasers to visit our new salesrooms and satisfy themselves of the values we offer.

ONE HUNDRED AND
ONE LOADED CARS
IN SINGLE TRAIN

Freight Train Nearly Two Thirds of A Mile Long Came Through Here
Thursday Night.

One hundred and one loaded cars pulled by a single class "Z" engine passed through this city from Elroy last Thursday night. With each car averaging thirty three feet in length this would make the length of the train three thousand three hundred and thirty three feet, or two hundred and two rods, nearly two thirds of a mile. This is one of the longest trains which has passed through here for some time and the fact that it was loaded meant that the engine was carrying a full capacity load. It was reported that another train of one hundred and nineteen cars left Elroy Thursday, but broke in two at Madison, where it was shortened. The tendency at present is to have the engine handle full capacity loads where possible and in this way motive power is economized. Business still remains slack, in the main, with from six to seven trains sent from the local yards on the average daily.

TRAINMEN REPORT THAT MANY HOBOES ARE STEALING RIDES

Decided Increase in Number of Homeless Wanderers Who "Beat Their Way" On the Trains.

There has been a decided increase of late in the number of tramps who have been stealing rides on freight trains according to the reports of trainmen. The fact that Milwaukee has been the gathering place for these unemployed wanderers on account of their convention in that city during the past week is the reason given for the augmentation in this line of traffic. For a week or so longer while the hoboers are on their return trips from the Green City trainmen will be bothered more than usual by this class of people. Some of them are reported to be unruly and have to be dealt with severely while others are of a quiet and retiring disposition and seem disposed to make as little trouble as possible. However, they are not passengers who are welcomed by any of the train crew.

CHINA APPEALS TO U. S. FOR AID IN FIGHTING PESTILENCE. REPORT SAYS PLAGUE IS MOST VIRULENT IN WORLD'S HISTORY. American Ambassador William J. Calhoun to China. Typical Crowded Street Scene in Peking, Showing Disregard for Proper Sanitation.

Peking, China.—The Chinese government has communicated to the legation an invitation to foreign governments to send experts to cooperate in a scientific investigation of the plague and its causes and possible methods for its prevention. China offers to pay all expenses.

Legation physicians announced this the after their arrival in Manchuria the most virulent epidemic in the world's history. Every case so far has been fatal. This differs from previous visitations in being wholly pneumonic and septiceamic without being of the bubonic type.

The number of infected districts south of the great wall indicates a rapid spread despite quarantines.

The Tien-Tsin and Peking railway trains are all suspended. Officials report 20 bodies along the track south of Tien-Tsin.

There have been 11 authenticated plague deaths in Peking.

It is probable the officials here and elsewhere are concealing the facts.

There was a heavy exodus of foreign women and children and non-officials on the Hankow express.

MAY PURCHASE ESTATE OF THE LATE COUNT LEO TOLSTOI.

Charles E. Flint, General view of the frontier of the late Count Leo Tolstoi's 723-acre estate.

New York, N. Y.—The movement for a Tolstoi memorial has received added impetus with the energetic work of Michael Koussinsky, a nephew of the late author and reformer. Through his efforts it is expected that a syndicate of American capitalists or some individual will purchase the Tolstoi estate.

Among those announced as most interested is Charles R. Flint. It is thought he will become the owner of the Tolstoi acreage with the exception of 150 acres, which will be set aside for a Tolstoi settlement. Should Mr. Flint purchase the property he will make of it a permanent exhibition of American agricultural machinery in order to show the Russian farmers modern methods.

PROHIBIT HUNTING IN CITY

Mayor Proposes Amendment to Old Ordinance Aiming at Practice of Chicago Sportsmen.

Chicago.—Though Chicago has a population of more than two millions, hunting in the city limits has become so prevalent that the mayor found it necessary to send a letter to the council, at the suggestion of the chief of police, proposing an amendment to the old hunting ordinance, which has been doing duty since 1905 to the satisfaction of Chicago's stay-at-home hunters.

Most Chicagoans, who live in districts so congested that the report of a shotgun would bring a dozen policemen on the jump, are not aware that it is the practice of many other Chicagoans, who know about the hunting grounds, to sail forth, in season, and return with a bagful of game birds without ever having left the city limits.

In a letter to the council, which accompanied the proposed amendment to the hunting ordinance, Mayor Russell told of the numerous complaints occasioned by "metropolitan hunting" that had reached Chief Steward and caused him to ask for action by the city fathers.

Wolf lake, Hyde lake, Lake Calumet and the Calumet river have been swimming with hunters in the shooting seasons of the past. At the continuance of these as hunting grounds the amendment is not aimed, and in future the echo of the reports of shotguns still will ring over their waters. That section of the Chicago "happy hunting ground" which the mayor would move from the realm of the primitive into that of the metropolitan comprises a section of the lake shore on the South side, the shore of the drainage canal and several other favored haunts of game. The only restriction on hunting in the "open" districts is that no shots be fired within 750 feet of a house, factory or barn.

The section where hunting would be prohibited, as enlarged by the passing of the amendment, would be: Beginning at the intersection of Seventy-first street with Lake Michigan.

MAYOR SHANK OF INDIANAPOLIS. Indianapolis, Ind.—Mayor Shank of

Indianapolis is an unique character. He is always good for a newspaper yarn, and the recent fight put up by Meredith Nicholson, the author, for equal suffrage brought the mayor into the limelight once more. Nicholson agreed to produce before the legislature in Indianapolis women better qualified for mayor of that city than the present incumbent, "Low" Shank. Mayor Shank, however, is a great friend of some women, who have found his matrimonial agency of value in assisting Cupid. He operates the only "municipal matrimonial bureau" to date in the country. He has received letters from women in various parts of the country and introduced them by mail.

Queer Holby of Eminent Man.
Dr. A. H. Mann, who has just received from the senate of Cambridge university the honorary degree of M. A., has been prominent in the musical life of the university for many years. Like many other professional musicians, he is devoted to antiquarian research, and otherwise varies his strict professional duties by collecting used railway tickets. No one knows better than Dr. Mann how to get by the ticket collector without giving up his ticket, and he is said to have collected (with the help of friends) over twelve thousand tickets which the unforgotten ticket collectors overlooked.

$25,000 Worth of New Spring Merchandise

Every department is getting its share of the new things.

February might be called the month of preparation. During this month women are finding out where the new things are and what they are. Others for one reason or another, have to buy early. The Big Store's preparedness for the earliest buyers is apparent after an inspection of the various departments. You are invited to call and see the new shipments. Cases and cases of new goods are arriving daily. It is enough to make one wonder what on earth we are going to do with all the goods.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

When Wendell Phillips was in Boston, it was his custom to go about in the mornings unostentatiously from court to court and from prison to prison looking for unfortunate persons, first offenders and those that had plainly erred from necessity, with purpose to help and rescue them, says Charles Edward Russell in "Success Magazine." Many a young man that had started wrong found his path reversed for him and never knew whose hand was reached out to him in the dark; and it was these ventures in practical charity, too little celebrated, that kept his purse lean and compelled him, in his own phrase, to spend his winters battling with snow-drifts as he toured the country delivering lectures.

"Going home across Boston Common one night Mr. Phillips was accosted by a courtesan. She looked in his face and then apologized for speaking to him. 'You are not of my kind,' she said, 'but for the love of God give me some money.' He stopped and talked with her; he was not ashamed, hearing in mind his Master and the Magdalene, to take her arm and walk with her while he questioned her; and he ended by providing her with shelter and employment until he had the satisfaction of seeing her emancipated and reformed. This is the one incident of the kind of which we have positive record, but we may be sure that it was not alone in his experience."

This is Christian service of the highest order, and yet so near the ground and so close at hand that it is often overlooked. Many good people imagine that serving the Lord is a difficult task and that superhuman effort is required in supernatural ways.

These people picture heaven as a place beyond the stars and attempt to make themselves believe that this far-away realm, which no human eye has ever penetrated, is the dwelling place of the Creator and Preserver of the universe.

The prayer of supplication is addressed to an imaginary throne, suspended in mid-air, beyond the ken of mortal vision, and in some indefinable way they hope to render service in this supernatural kingdom.

Someone said, a time ago, that "heaven is where God is and hell is where God isn't." A short and terse definition of location, yet it would be difficult to successfully controvert the statement, for the thought that God is everywhere, is generally accepted.

He is cursed in the haunts of vice and praised in the prayer meeting, but the curbing and the praising is addressed to a Deity who is supposed to be far away.

If the man with a curse on his lips realized that the being he was calling on for vengeance stood at his elbow, he might modify his demands, and if the man in loud and earnest supplication recognized that God was neither deaf nor away on a journey, it might be possible for him to be just as devout, with less effort, and perhaps not so long-winded in his pleadings. The work of carpeting the earth with a tapestry of green, of causing the seed to swell and the stalk to grow, of painting the lily, and transforming the fields to the golden hue of the harvest of promise, is the work of a Divine hand.

The building of mountains and hiding away the precious metals. The sweep of the tide as it ebbs and flows. The manipulation of the atmosphere until it gathers force and travels over the land at railway speed, leaving devastation in its path. In fact the management and control of all the great forces in nature, belongs to the realm of the unseen, which is so shrouded in mystery that science fails to penetrate it, and people are content with the supernatural management, and would not care to have it change hands.

But there is another kingdom where man is delegated with supreme authority and where he can do as he will without Divine interference. There is nothing supernatural about this kingdom and its subjects are so intensely real, that there is no mystery about their existence or the world they inhabit.

This is the realm where the human family has sojourned since the birth of the first generation, and the only realm that humanity knows anything about by experience. It is populated by all sorts of races and with all kinds of people, and yet having many things in common.

Human wants and human needs are the birthright of a common inheritance, and if there is a kingdom anywhere that needs an every-day heaven, it is the kingdom of the here and now.

The fact of whether we shall recognize our friends in some other state of existence, may seem important, but it fades to insignificance compared with the recognition we owe to humanity on the footstool we now inhabit.

It would be amusing, were it not pathetic, to watch the devotion which some men give to the little mound in the cemetery which marks the resting place of a companion who journeyed with them for a time along the pathway of life. If the money spent in caring for the mound, and the care bestowed had been invested in making the life of the departed happy, the day of separation might have been postponed for many years.

The obituary notice of today frequently contains the simple request, "no flowers," and regret is sometimes expressed by friends who desire to tender a tribute of respect, but flowers are for the living and not for the dead. In the vault under the chapel at the cemetery are numerous caskets awaiting burial next spring, and faded wreaths and floral designs abound in profusion.

The thought impresses itself that these evidences of love and kindly remembrance, if transferred to the living, might have accomplished more in the realm of human sympathy.

Wendell Phillips was a servant of God. He believed that misery and suffering, so common to human existence, would never be relieved in any supernatural way and that unless human hands and minds, inspired by loving hearts, came to the rescue, nothing would be done, and so his life was devoted to discovering heaven for people here.

If there is any higher order of service, it has not yet come to light, and the encouraging thought connected with it is, that this sort of practical service is within the grasp of every sojourner. Not so much concern about the hereafter and the inhabitants of some other country as about the people who need us in the here and now, and they are all about us.

The old lady who prayed for food in her lonely cabin thanked God that her prayer was answered when a basket came tumbling down her chimney, but her sense of reverence was shocked when a boy on the roof shouted, "Yes, Annie, the Lord sent it, but the devil brought it!"

That's the way that prayer is answered when the supplication is for material things. The God who is everywhere, prompts the heart of some servant to service, and the mysterious thing we call providence is credited with the deed.

Just common, every-day service, reaping for its reward the fulfillment of the old promise, "It is more blessed to give than receive," and sometimes crowned with a vision, at the end of a long and useful life, such as came to Mr. J. T. Wright, a few hours before he passed on.

He was singing, as he had been much of the time for a week while in a semi-conscious condition, when the nurse said to him: "I wouldn't sing Mr. Wright, for it makes you tired." "But," he replied, "I must sing, open wide the portals," and thus with only a step between, he passed from the heaven here to what the vision revealed, as the heaven there.

Here's a little poem from the pen of James Russell Lowell, that is very suggestive of lost opportunities for performing the most simple service.

"What silences we keep year after year

With those who are most near to us and dear;

We live beside each other day by day,

And speak of myriad things, but seldom say

The full, sweet word that lies within our reach

Beneath the common ground of common speech.

Then out of sight and out of reach they go,

These dear familiar friends who loved us so,

And, sitting in the shadow they have left,

Alone with loneliness and sore bereft,

We think with vain regret of some kind word

That once we might have said and they have heard."

Heart to Heart Talks.

SOME MEN AND A BABY.

It was in the smoking room of a Pullman that the old miner told me this tale, which has all the flavor of a Bret Harte story. I have forgotten the name of the mining camp, which was somewhere up in the mountains of northern Wyoming, but I remember the name of the woman.

It was above the timber line, where the air is thin and keen and bracing. The principal silences are broken only by the clung of the stamp mills and the whistle of the shaft engines. The "chapel" of the missionary is crowded by the "house holds" on either side of the one struggling street.

The missionary had a hard time. There were no weddings, and the funerals were mostly without benefit of clergy.

In ten years there had been no women or children in the camp.

Three years ago, said the old miner, Mrs. Callous went up the mountain side with her husband. The woman was treated like a queen by the rough miners. After a year a baby was born.

And thereby hangs the tale which harks back to the halcyon days Harte has pictured, a phase of American life rapidly passing.

Mrs. Callous—the miners were glad the baby was a girl—was born on the day before a holiday.

And the next day the fronts of the shanty shanties were decorated with boughs, navels were dried, and the miners put on their best woolen shirts.

And the baby's presents. A dishpan was put beside the cradle, and the miners poured in their gold dust and dumped their nuggets until $1,000 was counted.

And the parents were ordered to "get anything the young baby needs and charge it to me."

Bronzed, bearded miners stroked their beards in silence and took a long look at the red mite in the cradle. What memories were stirred cannot be told save by the star of the pile in the dishpan. Only some as they turned away were heard to mutter the name of a woman.

"That," said the old miner, "was the end of mine suicide."

Miners wrote to old sweethearts. Some used the telegraph, marking the messages "in haste."

And when the roses bloomed again down the side of the mountain there was no "lack of woman's nursing and no dearth of woman's tears."

The moral, you insist?

Goodness gracious, man or woman, the moral is in the story, and the story as it lives in my mind is like a free breath of the glorious air of the mountain heights.

INDICT NEW YORK BANKERS

Vice-President and Cashier of Northern Institution Charged With Concealment of Funds.

New York, Feb. 4.—Indictments were ordered by the grand jury against William L. Brower, vice-president, and William H. Mills, cashier, of the Northern Bank of New York, the Robin Institution which was closed recently.

The indictments charged violation of that section of the penal law which prohibits concealment of funds by officers of a bank from the directors or trustees of the institution.

TRACTION MAN IS MURDERED

Trainmaster for Congressman McKinley's System Found With Bullet Wound Under His Heart.

Granite City, Ill., Feb. 4.—John B. Hubbard, trainmaster and acting cashier for Congressman W. B. McKinley's great Illinois Traction system, was found dying from a bullet wound under his heart. He died before he could tell who had done the shooting.

Hubbard had just returned from Edwardsville where he had been testifying for the last week in a trial. Whether he created the enmity of any person during the trial is not known.

MAY HEAD EQUITABLE—CHARLES D. NORTON, PRESIDENT TAFT'S PRIVATE SECRETARY.

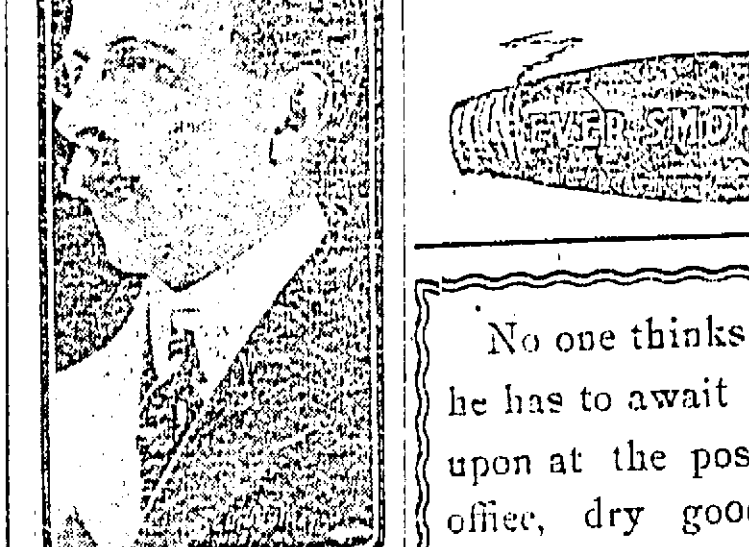

New York City.—A well founded rumor in insurance circles, which is being strengthened daily, has it that Charles D. Norton, secretary to President Taft, and one of the ablest insurance men in the country, has been selected as the new head of the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Coincident with the appearance of this report came the announcement from Washington that Secretary Norton had decided to retire from his present position to return to private life. This announcement was made yesterday before a subcommittee of the senate committee on finance.

When the question of increasing the secretary's salary was broached, "Secretary Norton is in favor of the salary being increased, although he will not get the benefit of the increase. He expects to retire from the office in the near future," said a friend of the Chicago man.

In addition to this statement, attention was called to the fact that Mr. Norton only recently sent a definite resignation to the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee, as its general manager, from which position he had obtained a two years' leave of absence when he accepted the position of private secretary to Mr. Taft on the latter's election.

This resignation was taken as evidence that the young man intended to follow in the footsteps of his predecessors who had gone to Washington before him by taking up business life again in New York.

PROSECUTING THE TRUSTS. Edwin P. Grosvenor, Special Assistant to Attorney General Wickersham.

Washington, D. C.—The one man who is most active in the prosecution of the various trusts under the direction of Attorney General Wickersham is Edwin P. Grosvenor. He has shown no mercy and has accomplished some remarkable results. He prosecuted the "bath tub" trust, the window glass trust, and is now preparing papers against many other commercial combinations.

Supply Being Kept Up. No wonder that New York city is growing. Each month about 10,500 babies are added to its population, while infant deaths are about half as many.

What is a Gentleman?

The defendant, who objected to being described as a gentleman, may be commended on his refusal to be labeled with a term which even Sir James Murray is shy of defining. There is the old legal definition, "all above the rank of a yeoman," and there is Sir William Blackstone's description of a gentleman as "one who can live idly and without labor." There is also the historic definition given by a witness at the trial of Thurtell for the murder of Mr. Wearo as "one who drives a pig." And the cabman probably expresses the average opinion as to what constitutes a man a gentleman when he says "You're a gentleman, sir," to the spendthrift who does not ask change for half a crown on a shilling fare.—London Chronicle.

A NEW ANTISEPTIC.

Germ's enter the human body through the mouth or throat and through the skin whenever there is a cut or scratch. A little care in the beginning will prevent almost every case of blood poison, diphtheria, scarlet fever, tonsillitis, and other germ diseases if people would only remember to make the mouth, throat or every scratch or wound antiseptic at once with Thym Ozon, the new antiseptic which is a new germ killer but not a poison to the healthy flesh. Thym Ozon is composed of Oxygen, Thymol, Wintergreen, Eucalyptus and other strong but not poisonous antiseptics. It acts at once, purifies every wound, heals canker sores, ring worms, eruptions of the skin, cleans the mouth and nasal passages of germs, boils and ulcers are made clean in a few hours. Thym Ozon reduced with glycerine for Nasal catarrh. It's healing, soothing and antiseptic effect is noticed at once. Every family should have a bottle in the house to apply to any wound. Don't take chances of getting blood poison. Thym Ozon is sold only by the Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River streets, at 25¢ per bottle.

No one thinks of "kicking" because he has to await his turn to be waited upon at the postoffice, railroad ticket office, dry goods stores, grocery or market, but many expect to be waited upon instantaneously when they use a telephone, no matter how many calls the operator has received ahead of theirs. They seem to think that for the 3 to 8 cents a day they pay for service, the company should maintain an operator for their exclusive use.

Think it over and be reasonable. Don't scold the operator. She is a very busy person engaged in a nerve racking business. Don't blame her if the party you want is not in the house or is slow in answering.

Cow Disarranges a Train.
A big, fat cow, that had walked on the track and would not move after the engineer had whistled repeatedly, was bumped by the locomotive of a Reading Railway passenger train.

The cow was very much damaged, and so were the cowcatcher and some of the machinery of the engine. In fact, the locomotive was put out of business, and a wreck engine had to pull the train from near Abrams to Pottstown, Pa., where it arrived an hour late. Then a freight engine was hauled on to take the train to its destination.

Two women came before a certain magistrate with a fat pullet, each claiming that it belonged to herself. The magistrate from his high seat frowned heavily at the first woman. "Does this pullet belong to Mrs. Jones?" he asked her. "No, indeed, it doesn't, sir," she replied. Then he turned to the other woman. "Does this pullet belong to Mrs. Smith?" he asked her. "It certainly does not," she replied. "The pullet," the magistrate then decreed, "does not belong to Mrs. Jones nor does it belong to Mrs. Smith. The pullet is mine. Take it round to the house and give it to my cook."

GOLDEN WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED

IN CLINTON THIS NOON—GUESTS FROM DIFFERENT PARTS OF COUNTY.

MANY PRESENTS RECEIVED

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Clapper Pass the Fiftieth Milestone of Married Life With Due Ceremony.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, Feb. 4.—At the Knights of Pythias hall in this village today, was celebrated the fiftieth wedding anniversary of two of Rock county's pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Anson A. Clapper. Married in 1861 fifty years ago the aged couple today commemorated their golden wedding with an elaborate dinner served to the hundred and fifty invited guests.

Mr. Clapper was born in New York city seventy-one years ago. His wife is a few years his junior, being but six-seventy, and was born in Pennsylvania. They were united in marriage in 1861.

MR. AND MRS. ANSON CLAPPER.

held on Saturday evening, February 4, 1861, and moved immediately to the groom's farm, just east of Clinton village, which has been their home until two years ago when they moved into the village.

Three sons, Frank Clapper of Sharon, Sherman Clapper of Avon, and George Clapper, who lives with his parents, and five daughters, Mrs. J. J. Two and Mrs. A. J. Sweet of Sharon, Mrs. Fred Dockham of Avon, and Mrs. E. L. Montayne and Mrs. Nellie Akeley of Janesville, were born of this union and all are living. There are also fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren, making four generations, all of whom were present at today's gathering.

The reception and luncheon today was held at Knights of Pythias hall. A delicious dinner was served at noon followed by an informal reception with cards, music and special entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Clapper were the recipients of many handsome presents. From their children, a gold watch and chain, a protusion of gold pieces, gold lined table ware, a full dinner set of white and gold glass, a gold clock, large silver bowls, watch fobs and lockets were among the many presents. The hall was most tastefully decorated with cut flowers and ferns and the guests came from Byron, Illinois, Delavan, Sharon, Walworth, Janesville and Iowa.

REPORTS ON COUNTY SCHOOLS COMING IN

County Supt. in Receipt of Annual Reports Showing Attendance in All Schools in County.

County Supt. Antwidel is now receiving the annual attendance reports of all the schools in the county. Under the new school law enacted a few years ago, the county superintendent assumed the duties of former state auditor in the territory over which he had jurisdiction and for this reason Mr. Antwidel has devised this scheme in order to keep accurate account of the whereabouts of every boy or girl of school age in this county. All teachers are furnished with a blank which they fill out once a year and submit to the superintendent, showing what children are out of school and the reason for their absence. Formerly the sheriff or one of the deputies was sent after these cases when they were reported, but under this system, the truant is brought more under the direct notice of the county auditor. In this way it is not only an aid to the superintendent, but is also of help to the state factory inspector. The latter can use the statistics thus collected in regard to child labor law violations. While all counties have some method of keeping track of the school attendance, this system is in a way, unique.

CITY OFFICERS GIVE OPINIONS

Municipal Judge Eitel and Chief of Police Appleby Both Express Themselves in Favor of Stone Pile At Jail.

That the agitation for the establishment of a stone pile for the prisoners at the county jail is finding favor with officials who deal principally with the class of men or who are imprisoned there, is evidenced by the statements made today by Municipal Judge C. L. Eitel and Chief of Police George Appleby.

Said Chief Appleby: "There is no question but that stone pile for county prisoners to work on would be a benefit to the county. If a good share of the men who are sent to the jail for petty offenses had to work on the streets and had to work as hard there as for some farmer or in some other occupation, receiving no pay for their labor, they would soon fire of it. It would help to keep away bums and other undesirable. The effect would be felt in other counties as naturally these transients would shun Rock County."

"The plan has worked with admirable success in other cities," he have

CHARGES AGAINST THREE DISMISSED

The Two Women, Mabel Walker and Dora Cole, and Man, Released on Motion of District Attorney.

Today was a busy day for officers of the municipal court. Six cases comprised the morning's work and there was promise of another action this afternoon as the result of one of the morning trials.

The trials of chief interest were those of Mabel Griffin Walker, Dora Cole, and the Edgerton youth charged with "lewd and lascivious conduct." There was a gallery of about forty interested spectators seated in the chairs and standing around the courtroom. The officers after the announcement, however, were doomed to disappointment, as the charges against the three were dropped on the grounds of insufficient evidence. District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie, appearing for the state, made the motion to dismiss the cases and it was granted by the judge. The Cole woman agreed to leave town immediately.

The Edgerton man, it appears, was merely the victim of a peculiar circumstance and was taken into custody owing to the fact he was in company with the two women whom the police have been watching closely.

The original wire case, brought by the city through Fire Chief H. C. Klein against the Wisconsin Telephone company for alleged violation of the city wire ordinance on South Silver street, was adjourned by agreement of attorneys until February 21.

The case of Edward Angle, charged with abandonment, which has been adjourned from time to time, was again postponed and will come up again in a week.

J. J. Cunningham, attorney for Mrs. Mary Henderson, who brought an assault and battery action against Ira Bryant, charging that he struck her little daughter with a stick, was unable to appear, and the case was adjourned until next Saturday.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR ARRESTED TODAY

Wendell Schneider of St. Charles Hotel Charged With Keeping Saloon Open After Eleven O'clock.

As a result of the arrest of two women and a man early Friday in his hotel, Wendell Schneider, proprietor of the St. Charles hotel at 24 North Academy street, was arrested today and arraigned in municipal court at two o'clock this afternoon, charged with violation of the city ordinance requiring all saloons to close at eleven o'clock. In the complaint it is stated that Schneider kept his place of business open after hours until one o'clock Friday morning and sold liquor to customers. Schneider pleaded not guilty to the charge and his examination was set for ten o'clock Wednesday morning. Schneider was released on his own recognizance.

MILWAUKEE SCHOOL PRINCIPLES SEEK TO HAVE BOOTHS REMOVED
[BY ENTER PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—Milwaukee school principals appeared before members of the common council today to support of the proposition of using school houses for election purposes in place of unsightly booths. Fifteen principals supported the new plan. They argued that the city would save money by using the school buildings as the cost of erecting and removing booths would be eliminated. It was also stated that elections would educate children and bring about more wholesome conditions among the electors.

RECEIVED SPECIMENS OF INDIAN POTTERY

Horace McElroy Has Received Some Beautiful Pieces of Indian Pottery from Geo. S. Parker.

Horace McElroy received yesterday from Geo. S. Parker a box containing some very beautiful specimens of Indian pottery and an Indian skull which is quite ancient. Mr. Parker found the pieces near the edge of the petrified forests at El Tovar, Grand Canyon, Arizona. There are a number of Indian ruins in that vicinity and one of the mounds which was opened by Mr. Parker, yielded a very perfect skull of what is supposed to be an Aztec Indian together with one of the leg bones, and a number of very fine pieces of porcelain of various shapes and hues. These pieces are of considerable value to the antiquarian and will be an important addition to Mr. McElroy's excellent collection.

Lights Life's Labor.
A French wit defined manners when he said: "I would rather be trampled on by a velvet slipper than a wooden shoe"—though it must not be forgotten that the velvet slipper tramples not at all. Polite manners trip through life like the velvet slipper, making beauty, injuring no one.

For Accidents.
Every mother should keep a supply of lint and some good ointment in the medicine cupboard, and when an accident, such as a cut finger, occurs, it may be used. Spread a little of the ointment on the lint and lay it on the injured part after it has been washed thoroughly in hot water. Cover the lint with a soft rag and tie it up.

SENATE ADVANCES DIRECT ELECTION

Borah's Resolution Is Made Unfinished Business.

DILATORY TACTICS ARE USED

After Much Maneuvering Advocates of Election of Senators by Popular Vote Are Victorious 40 to 36.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The consideration of the resolution for popular election of United States senators now has the right of way in the senate, with the assurance that it will be adopted by this congress and the amendment of the constitution submitted to the several states.

After considerable parliamentary maneuvering, the advocates of the resolution were victorious in their move for immediate action by a vote of 40 to 36. It thereby becomes the unfinished business of the senate, with a reasonable period allowed for debate before a date is fixed for a final vote. The fight over the direct election resolution was a continuation of the skirmish which started just before adjournment Thursday. The opponents of the immediate consideration of the resolution had a powerful ally in Vice-President Sherman.

Borah Gets Setback at First.
Senator Borah, who has charge of the direct election resolution, and Senator Nelson were on their feet at the same time clamoring for recognition. Senator Borah had moved to a position in the chamber directly in front of the vice-president. But Mr. Sherman failed to see or hear him and recognized Mr. Nelson as entitled to the floor.

Mr. Nelson moved the immediate consideration of the bill providing for the leasing of Alaska coal lands. Mr. Borah promptly moved to lay this motion on the table, but in this he was defeated by a vote of 36 to 41.

The result of this was to make the Alaska coal bill the unfinished business, it being well understood that the principal purpose of pressing it at this time was to block the senatorial resolution. The opponents of the resolution were in high feather and proceeded at once to the consideration of the bill moved by Senator Nelson.

Trouble Brewing for Regulars.
But there was trouble brewing for the regulars, as soon became apparent, when Senator Warren moved that when the senate adjourns it should be until Monday. He said there were many committee meetings scheduled, an explanation that was received with significant smiles, because the move was recognized as purely dilatory.

The progressives demanded a roll call on the motion, which, to the surprise of the old guard, was defeated by a vote of 40 to 36. On this roll call some of the regulars joined the progressives and the Democrats in opposition to the program of obstruction.

Then, after the regulars could catch their breath, Mr. Borah offered a motion to proceed immediately to the senatorial election resolution.

Executive Session Decried.
Senator Penrose moved an executive session in order to give the old guard time to count noses. This motion was defeated, 40 to 36.

Mr. Hale asked Senator Borah for assurance that ample time would be given for speeches on this question. Mr. Borah acceded and then at the suggestion of Mr. Hale the roll call on the motion to take up the popular election question was dispensed with and the senate by a viva voce vote displaced the Alaskan bill and gave the popular election resolution the right of way.

PEARY PROMOTION MAY FAIL

Bill to Make Explorer a Rear Admiral Is Probably Postponed for Present Session.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Congress may fail to act at this session on the bill to promote Robert E. Peary to be a rear admiral. The bill was reached on the private calendar, but consideration was postponed. It is not probable that private bills will again be taken up before adjournment.

WHIPPING POST IS TO GO

Oregon Legislature Votes to Abolish That Form of Punishment for Wife-Beaters.

Salem, Ore., Feb. 4.—A bill to abolish the whipping post for wife-beaters in Oregon has been passed by the legislature. This law was enacted four years ago, and since it became a statute wife-beating cases have almost disappeared. The law is repealed because it was considered a blot on the state.

Steamer Titiana Is Wrecked.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 4.—The Norwegian tramp steamer Titiana, 2,315 tons, heavily laden with coal, was wrecked on Stuart Point, San Juan Island, at the southern end of the Gulf of Georgia. She carried a crew of 28 men.

Felt Mills Fire Costs $125,000.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Feb. 4.—The plant of the Consolidated woolen felt mills in this city was destroyed by fire. Loss, $125,000.

SEES BIG TRADE FIELD

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND ENTHUSIASTIC OVER RUSSIA.

Declares American Capital Will Be Welcomed to Open Up Unlimited Territory—Czar Democratic.

New York, Feb. 4.—John Hays Hammond, the mining engineer, returned from a pilgrimage to Russia and a visit to the czar on the Lusitania. He said he had found the czar wonderfully democratic and well posted on financial and industrial affairs. His knowledge was not confined to Russia by the margin of the rest of the world. He was intimately acquainted with financial and industrial affairs in this country.

Mr. Hammond visited Russia as the representative of a syndicate of American capitalists. He investigated the opportunities for the investment of capital in the Russian empire and found that they were many and alluring. The czar had assured him that he would welcome the invasion of American capital. He would do all in his power to smooth the way for such an invasion.

As a result of these kindly assurances, says Mr. Hammond, a staff of engineers will be sent to Russia. It is planned to build great grain elevators and also to reclaim lands for the cultivation of grain. The syndicate Mr. Hammond represents will also invest some millions in mining concessions.

Commerce with Russia would be greatly facilitated, said Mr. Hammond. If American manufacturers would send out their dredges to Russia in Russian and would state in them the cost of merchandise delivered in Russia and not New York prices.

The dormitory will be known as Prudence Riskey hall, in memory of the mother of Russell Sage.

Marshall Retains Chess Title.

New York, Feb. 4.—Frank J. Marshall, United States chess champion, retained his title by drawing with Kreymborg in the final round of the national tournament. He won with eight wins and four draws.

TO REINSTATE NINE CADETS

Bill Passes Congress to Give Dismissed West Pointers Court-Martial Trial for Hazing.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The nine West Point cadets dismissed for hazing from the academy in 1908 by President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Wright were reinstated under a bill which passed the house, it having previously passed the senate. President Taft has to approve it. The cadets are to be given trials by court-martial. The innocent are to be returned to their classes and the guilty given less severe punishment.

Among the cadets dismissed were Harry G. Weaver, Illinois; John H. Becker, Jr., Georgia; Albert E. Crane, Iowa; Richard W. Hoeker, Jr., Ohio.

Train Hits Wagon, Killing Three.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—Two more Europeans, an army surgeon and a medical official, have died here from the plague.

"AMERICUS" LOSES TO "HACK"

Russian Lion Wins From Gus Schoenlein in Straight Falls at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 4.—George Hekenschmidt, the Russian Lion, defeated Gus Schoenlein, "Americus," in straight falls before 7,000 followers of the wrestling sport in Convention hall. Both falls were gained by body holds. The time of the first was 1 hour, 20 minutes and 30 seconds, and the second 28 minutes and 15 seconds.

Although outweighed at least thirty pounds, "Americus" put up a game fight from beginning to end.

Declines Chair in Iowa University.

Davenport, Ia., Feb. 4.—President Gustave Andron of Augustana college, Rock Island, denied that he had been called to the presidency of the University of Iowa. He said he had been offered the chair of German language at Iowa, but did not accept.

Call Caucus on Canadian Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Democratic representatives will hold a caucus next Monday night to decide upon a party policy as to Canadian reciprocity legislation. The call for the caucus was signed by seventy of the Democrats.

GARMENT STRIKE OFF

UNION OFFICIALS ORDER WORKERS TO SEEK PLACES.

Action Is Practically Unconditional Surrender—Houses Will Treat With Employees As Individuals.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—After twenty weeks of bitter struggle the garment workers' strike is called off. Realizing that it would be useless longer to continue the struggle the executive committee of the strike committee of thirty-five took action ordering the long drawn out fight against the "association" clothing houses at an end.

The action was taken quietly at a session of the committee and with the sanction of President Thomas A. Rickert of the United Garment Workers of America. The action was tantamount to a declaration of unconditional surrender.

At the close of the meeting word was passed out among the strikers that the walkout was at an end and that all pickets were withdrawn from the strikebound shops. The announcement was received without demonstration of any kind, and it was said to be practically certain that the remainder of the strikers will apply for their old places as individuals.

The effect of calling the strike off will be that: The strikers must return to work in the shops of the "association" houses as individuals. The open shop policy of the employers will be maintained, and all grievances, if any, will be adjusted by the employers with each individual employee.

Action of terminating the strike was taken without consulting with President John Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor and Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the Women's Trade Union league, principal leaders of the strike and heads of the joint strike conference board.

San Francisco, Cal.—The first real bomb dropped from the sky was about 550 feet above the earth, Chrissy success from every point of view. In launched a low power explosive misadventure it was almost a center shot, with results that were entirely in explosive power. It could have done successful from a military standpoint. Inestimable damage had it been aimed. The bomb, filled with shrapnel and a quarter of a pound of black powder. The flight took place from Selfridge airport the earth at almost the identical point under the skillful plotting of point chosen, exploded at the instant Philip Parmalee. The bomb was of compact and left a hole three feet or dropped by First Lieutenant Myron Chrissy in diameter and nearly as deep Chrissy.

What You Want Is a Brand New Fore Door Car

NOT an old open front body with the fore doors hurriedly stuck on as an afterthought. That's almost as bad as getting a second-hand car and paying a first-class price. And it might surprise you to know that any number of fore door cars on the market this very minute are of this made-over variety—sort of botch cars. Are they worth your money?

The OVERLAND is an original fore door machine. Early in 1910 the Overland company realized that 1911 was going to be a fore door year and they built accordingly. They anticipated the public's requirements. We are ready to give you exactly what you have in your mind's eye—a brand new, spick and span, handsome fore door car—the snappiest little beauty you ever laid eyes on.

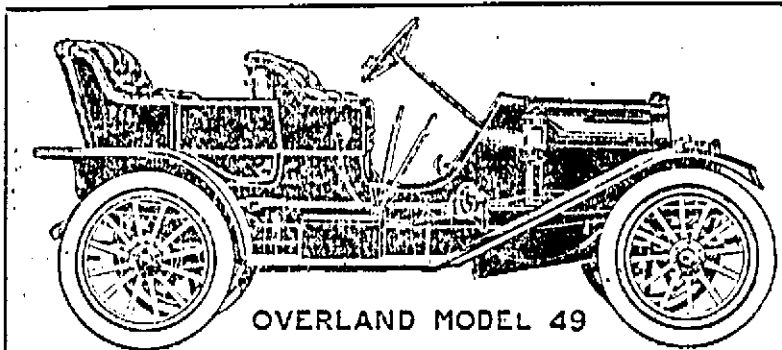

Look around. Pick out the made-over fore door cars. You'll see lots of them and all being offered as new. And be careful that you don't find yourself with an out of date model with simply an extra pair of doors closing up the old open front.

Compare the OVERLAND flush bodies giving a full six inches more room in each seat—the straight lines which give that impressive and striking appearance found only in the OVERLAND. Note how each line and curve is so graceful and absolutely correct, giving that swagger effect which so sets off the machine. The minute you see an OVERLAND you'll say "that's the car I've been hunting." Nobody can pass by an OVERLAND without a desire to have one all of their own.

There's beauty in every line of the OVERLAND. And the car itself has that sort of character that is individual. It is not a commonplace looking machine, but a car of tone.

Take the OVERLAND specifications. Compare them item for item with any other car of a given type and you'll soon see where you get your money's worth in an automobile. Compare the wheel base—the size wheels—the motor and cylinders. Go over every detail. You cannot be too critical. We are prepared to deliver at once. And our at once promise means just that—not three or four months later.

If you are considering the purchase of a machine the OVERLAND is worth your most careful attention. Come to our garage and see the brand new fore-door models. Then look at some of the botch fore-door machines and let your own judgment decide. Of course we have open front cars for those who wish them.

OVERLAND MODEL 49

A small family touring car with every good quality of a larger one. Four passenger—102-inch wheelbase. Price $1,095.
Within the past month this car has been put on the market, owing to increased demand in the fore-door style, giving full six inches more room in rear seat. This is, without doubt, the best motor car buy on the market for the average man.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

"That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Was there ever a more glaring misstatement than that?

Surely as great a poet as the one who said that must have been perfectly well aware that if you called a rose a penny it couldn't possibly smell one-half so fragrant.

Surely he must have known that there is a warm flushed sweetness in the sound of the word "rose" that penny or putum does not suggest at all.

I'll tell you what made me think of it.

Molly, the little stenographer, is decidedly thin, and for such a reasonable person she is rather sensitive about it.

The subject came up last night and Molly was particularly bitter.

"Why is this?" we questioned. "Have you lost any of those precious 102 pounds?"

"No, then that," explained Molly, "but my aunt was out to the house last night and she said, 'Isn't it a shame, Molly, when the rest of your family are so good sized that you should be so terribly skinny?'"

"I don't mind being 'skinny' so much, but oh it's awful to be thin!"

I don't believe there is a thin girl in the land who doesn't shake at it with Molly.

Would ever Mr. S. dare to say that it doesn't make a vast difference whether you call a state of body—

"slender" and "skinny."

Or

"Thin."

"Skinny," "lean" or "poor?"

Wouldn't you dare to assert that it doesn't make a lot of difference whether you describe the lady with the thinnest embonpoint as:

"Plump,"

"Or

"Large,"

"Or

"Stout," "corpulent" or "fat?"

And here's a few more questions for him:

Which would he rather go "automobile" or "motor" or "out in the machine?"

For his benefit, as they may not have motor cars where he is just now, I explain that whereas once on a time we were proud to go "automobile" and later "motor" nowadays only the hot pedal do any of those things. The select folk "go out in their machine."

Which would he rather ride in, a "private car," which is what folks from the country call it, or a "chair car" (which is what the people who will be hurried to have to ride five miles in a "day coach" denigrate it)?

Which would he rather spend at his friend's house, Saturday afternoon and Sunday or "the week end?"

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Go along, man.

I know that every little scribbler since your day has made copy by disproving that statement.

But surely you left yourself just one more debt that we all owe to the immortal William.

Or

"Thin."

"Skinny," "lean" or "poor?"

Wouldn't you dare to assert that it doesn't make a lot of difference whether you describe the lady with the thinnest embonpoint as:

MONROE CHEESE MEN IN A COMBINATION

New Wisconsin With Capital Stock Of $200,000 Will Be Ready To Operate June 1st.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Monroe, Wis., Feb. 4.—An organization of the several cheese firms of this city has been perfected under the name of the Indiana State Cheese Company, articles of incorporation having been filed with the secretary of state at Madison. The incorporators are: Gustaf Karlson, Herman Rogoz, Jac. Karlson, Jr., Fred Rubin, Jos. Acherman, John H. Elmer, Sam J. Stauffer, John Kueser, Christ Roth, Alvin Elmer, Werner Blum, Fred J. Stauffer, John C. Elmer and Henry Elmer.

The company, with fifteen stockholders, has a capital stock of $200,000. There will be a paid up capital of $150,000 in 1,500 shares at $100 each.

The firms who have joined the new combination will dispose of their old stock and will be ready to engage in business on June 1, at which time the organization will be perfected.

The company, aside from buying and selling cheese, will buy milk of the farmers and operate factories as is the present custom of the dealers who are to be identified with the new company.

Officers of the company are as follows:

President—Jac. Karlson, Jr.
Vice President—Christ Roth.
Secretary—Henry Elmer.
Treasurer—S. J. Stauffer.
Manager—John H. Elmer.
Assistant Manager—Jos. Acherman.
Directors—Joseph Acherman, Fred Rubin, Jacob Rogoz, Jr., John H. Elmer, Christ Roth, John Kueser, Fred Stauffer, S. J. Stauffer and Jacob Karlson, Jr.

The new company plans to buy all grades of cheese at current market prices and resell at for business over the whole foreign cheese-producing district. Cheese on hand will be cured and treated before placed on the market, and in this way the product will more fully measure up to the imported article. Competition by the dealers hitherto has caused them to buy cheese over the shelf regardless of quality, passing it on the market before it is in proper shape. Much cheese has been rejected or graded low on this account.

Cheese interests of the individual firms has been discouraging the past season, and it is believed the consolidation will do away with much expense and realize greater profit for both the dealer and patrons. The business will be conducted from the office that will be located in this city.

Personal.

The younger piano pupils of Alfred Truchsel met at the teacher's home, giving an informal piano recital. A feature of the evening was the giving of two prizes to those guessing the greatest number of pictures of great composers and artists. Miss Evelyn Lathlow and Harriet Church were the winners of the prizes.

Henry Elmer and John C. Elmer left last evening for Renwick, Ia., where they will attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Jacob Elmer. Miss Martha Elmer is spending several days in Freeport.

Rather Good to Have Around.

Any kind of a woman in the office would be a nuisance, but a young woman who kept a powder box, a cold cream jar and a bottle of violet water on her desk among the typewriter supplies and copying ink was an utter impossibility that ought to be encouraged to look for a more congenial job.

And the baker's dozen of men who have had their own way in that office for five years; but when, with the first freezing of the steam pipes comes stuck like glue to ink and mudlike bottles every time they happened to be corked up and the young woman came to the rescue by simply smearing some of her cold cream over every cork so it would stand in the bottle for a month without sticking, the men said maybe a woman who knew practical little hints like that wasn't such a bad person to have around after all.

Heat to a cream one-half cup of butter and two cups of sugar. Add the yolks of two eggs beaten light and stirred in with a wooden spoon. Sift together in another bowl three cups of pastry flour, a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and one-half teaspoonful of soda. Mix with the other ingredients, beat, then fold in two cups of chopped hickory or walnut meats and two cups of seeded raisins dredged with flour.

Dred in the whites of two fresh eggs beaten to a froth and bake for an hour in a moderate oven. The cake may be flavored with a grating of nutmeg, a bit of mace or vanilla as preferred.

Current Buns.

One and a half cups warm sweet milk, one cup sugar, one cup yeast or one yeast cake (if yeast cake is used, dissolve in cup of lukewarm water), one-half cup of butter, one cup raisins. Make a stiff batter. Let rise over night. In the morning stir in as much flour as you can with a spoon. Let it rise again, then knead in enough flour to make out in small cakes, let rise again and bake in quick oven. Two eggs may be used in the morning, if liked.

Tomato Curry.

Cook two tablespoonfuls of butter with one-half tablespoonful finely chopped onion until yellow. Add one sour apple, pared, cored and chopped. Cook eight minutes. Add one-half cup rice, two cups canned tomatoes, one-half tablespoonful curry powder, one teaspoonful vinegar. When it boils add one teaspoonful salt and one salt-spoonful pepper and one cup boiled rice. Cook five minutes.

The Magic of a Name.

"Lili," said Kit, "you're trying to make my father away from me; I'll get even with you, Mike!"

"I suppose you'll tell 'em some ho about me, Kit Skimmerhorn!" snapped the other.

"I'll do more'n that, Lili. Goodness! I'll tell Laura Jean Libbey on you!"

ELABORATE THEATRICAL COSTUME.

In this very elaborate costume we see a revival of the erstwhile popular renaissance face of Duchess brand in the form of an overdress or tunic bordered with sable. Similar lace is used for stock and yoke to the foundation dress of yellow satin velvet with brown chiffon which has a knee deep band of brown velvet. Sleeves and glides are of velvet, each trimmed with huge brown enameled buttons with a turquoise center. A brown velvet hat trimmed with sable and yellow parrot feathers and a muff of plain white ermine with sable bands complete this L. gilded costume.

Admiral Fisher's Folly.

By laying the first modern Dreadnought down, Admiral Fisher increased naval expenditure on a single battleship to enormously more than what it was before. That was not all he did. By his action he put all the battleships in the British navy out of date in a day, and made them fit only for the bonfire.

So superior was his ship in armament and gunfire to all others, that navies nowadays are classed only by the number of Dreadnoughts they possess. For this mistake, instead of being censured or hanged, he was raised to the British peerage as a reward of merit. His folly is being repeated everywhere. Even Dreadnoughts and armored cruisers are going out of date fast. Nothing short of super-Dreadnoughts and Dreadnought cruisers—the latter costing about $7,500,000 at the lowest—will satisfy our craving for that stupendous piece of folly called "navy power."—Alexander G. McCallan, in Atlantic.

DON'T BE UNREASONABLE

If You Neglect the Care of the Scalp You Should Not Expect Beautiful Hair.

The hair is more exposed and hence more liable to accumulate dust and dirt than any other portion of the body.

In spite of this the hair receives, as a rule, the least attention and no real effort is made to keep it healthy.

If the dandruff germ is allowed to work unmolested and the scalp becomes crusted with dirt accumulations, one may expect his hair to die and fall out. There is no cause for surprise in this phenomenon; it is natural and happens in every instance where the care of the hair and scalp is overlooked.

The one sure remedy which prevents the loss of hair and permits a healthy, luxuriant growth is found in Newbro's Herpicide.

The dandruff germ cannot live on a head to which Herpicide is regularly applied. The germ dies. The hair ceases to fall. The terrible itching stops almost instantly.

That is what Newbro's Herpicide does. One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists. Send 10c in stamps for booklet and sample to The Herpicide Co., Dept. H., Detroit, Mich. Applications at the good barber shops.

First Year of Marriage.

From a domestic management point of view the young wife's first year is her hardest, says a writer. She has so much to learn and unlearn. It takes time to discover which are the most trustworthy and economical storekeepers in the district. Some shopkeepers take advantage of a bride's inexperience, others are kindly and give many helping hints.

WHY WE ADVERTISE

It costs money to advertise, but it is the only way in which we can have a musical chat with you. The situation is this: you are going to purchase a piano, and it is necessary that you should know where to buy a good piano, one that will give entire satisfaction, and durability, and where the rich quality of tone remains with the piano for years to come and really improves with age. This you will find in the

Newman Bros. Piano

We have these pianos for sale because after 20 years of practical experience with high grade pianos, we have found that the Newman Bros. piano is the best and will give you more value for your money than any other piano on the market.

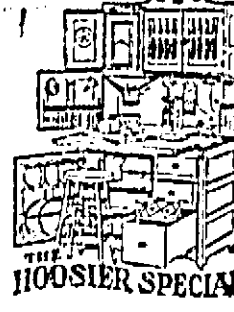

What more are you looking for? It is not how cheap you can buy. It is no trouble to furnish you a piano for $150, $165 or $175—that is easy. But does it pay you? Why not pay a fair price and get a good, reliable piano? All pianos may look alike to you, but oh, what a difference, when we judge for quality of tone and durability. WE ADVERTISE to show you the difference, and now it is up to you—take your choice and do no kicking.

Call and see the famous Newman Bros. line of pianos before you buy elsewhere.

Do You Know How Many Women On Your Street Use A Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet?

Women in Janesville have been using Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets for a number of years.

More and more women every year have bought these cabinets to save their kitchen work.

Hardly a day passes that some woman in this town doesn't have us send her a Hoosier Cabinet.

These women save thousands of steps and hours of time. Their work is easier.

A great many of the women you know already have Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets. Why haven't you one?

We'd be glad to show you all about them if you'll come in.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

PREDISPOSITION TO CONSUMPTION.

There is an hereditary predisposition to consumption which can always be judged by the family history, and physical signs. When the predisposition is pronounced, a simple diet, including free use of fat and largely excluding cereals, potatoes and cane sugar, should be adopted. Outdoor work should be followed, farming or fruit growing in Colorado, Mexico, or the elevated part of Texas or Arkansas being especially suitable. Consumption is easily cured in a young person in the early stages, but it should not be allowed to gain a firm foothold. The family physician can determine the degree of liability to the disease so that it can be avoided. The diet can also be regulated as indicated. Prevention is better than cure.

ORANGE WEEK!
FORTY-FIVE Carloads Coming—Are California's Finest—The "SUNKIST" Kind—ON SALE ALL NEXT WEEK!
Attractive Prices and Special Displays of "SUNKISTS"
At All Dealers
Forty-five carloads of famous "Sunkist"
oranges—more than 18,000 boxes—are speeding eastward by fast freight, direct from the orange groves of California.
They will be here, on sale at every dealer's next Monday morning. The sale will continue through the week. It will be the biggest affair of its kind in history.
Last year's "Sunkist" Orange Sale was such a huge success, and everybody bought so liberally, that your local dealers were simply swamped with business. They were hardly able to supply the demand. We therefore suggest that you place your order for "Sunkist" oranges as early next week as possible. Then you will be certain of being supplied.
Every orange in every box is sound, tree-ripened and hand-picked—the most luscious, healthful fruit on the market. For "Sunkist" oranges are California's choicest crop.
Five thousand orange growers
select their choicest and pack them under the name "Sunkist." Thus every "Sunkist" orange is perfect
—solid, sweet and full flavored.
In "Sunkist" wrappers you get tree-ripened,
hand-picked oranges of the most acceptable variety. Every orange is picked by a gloved hand. They are shipped by fast freight, and always reach your table in prime condition.
Being seedless, fiberless and thin-skinned, there is but very little waste. They are the most economical oranges you can buy. Each one is packed in a germ-proof tissue paper wrapper and bears the label "Sunkist."

people to eat more oranges. We are a nation of meat eaters. And in winter, especially, the system gets clogged, causing congestion, colds, fevers, etc. Those who eat fresh wholesome fruit freely, seldom require medical treatment.
Serve Them for Breakfast and in Salads and Desserts Oranges are the ideal breakfast fruit and "between meals" lunch. For salads, they are indispensable.
Orange loes, sherbets, puddings, etc., are very popular and delicious desserts.
"Sunkist" by the Box
"Sunkist" oranges reach you in such perfect condition, fresh from the orange groves, they will keep for weeks. Your dealer can make you a handsome saving if you order a box or half box. They are cheaper than table apples, and the greatest health food.
A Word About
"Sunkist" Lemons
Fruit dealers at all times are supplied with "Sunkist" lemons. They are the same superior quality as "Sun-kist" oranges.
Never thick-skinned or pithy. "Sun-kist" lemons are so juicy that two of them equal three of the commonplace kind. They too, are packed in "Sunkist" wrappers.
Save Your "Sunkist" Wrappers
By saving your "Sunkist" orange and lemon wrappers you can easily secure a full set of genuine Rogers orange spoons, dessert spoons and fruit knives. The Saving Them for Her Funeral. The wife of a prominent southern statesman tells a story of her ancient colored cook, who took a liking to every article of apparel in her mistress' wardrobe. It was "please give me this" and "please give me that," until the lady took a trip to St. Louis and laid in a generous supply of hosiery and underwear and outer garments for the old mammy. The gifts were received with gratitude, but presently the cook was at her old tricks, asking for stockings, aprons and wrappers. "What did you do with all those things I brought you from St. Louis?" demanded her employer.

"Why, missie," answered the woman, "I couldn't use them things. Not for nothing. I am saving them all to be buried in."

Evils of Modern Fiction. The fiction hero of the day is said to be weak and unheroic, and the charge is made that the women are the cause. "There is no doubt," said a literary agent recently, "that heroes of a wide class of writers are decadent and unheroic. They do nothing worth doing. They are weak and almost effeminate, and lack strength of character. This is not the author's fault. It seems to be the natural sequence of the conception of the up-to-date heroine, for it is impossible to imagine any decent, old-time hero putting up with the modern heroine. The authors, too, seem to think that they get strength into their stories by dealing with what is repellent. There is no doubt that there is much that is morbid in the predominating type of fiction heroes."

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, Feb. 4, 1871. —Jottings.—Mr. W. D. Carpenter, the artist, has on his easel a somewhat ideal portrait which he calls "Star of an Evening."

Mr. Merrill who was burned at the recent Kenosha fire, together with her two children, was a sister of Prof. Brand, formerly of this city.

A large party of ladies and gentlemen from this city danced till past the midnight hour at the home of Mr. Wm. Stark of La Prairie, last evening.

The excellent sleighing in this vicinity is being improved just now. The splendid moonlight nights and moderate weather make this one of the most pleasurable pastimes of the season.

The following is the money order report of the Janesville postoffice for the week ending Feb. 4th. Number of money orders issued, 58; amount $1,014.21. Number of orders paid, 45; amount, $1,024.52.

The adjourned charter amendment will be held this evening at the court house, at seven o'clock. It is expected that the committee appointed to revise the amendments will report at this meeting.

We wish to suggest to the managers of the evening entertainments which are so plentifully bestowed on the public this season, that they should provide a room for the safe keeping of the outer garments of their patrons, and give a check for each article as it is checked in. It is not profitable to attend a ten cent entertainment and lose a fifty dollar overcoat or a set of furs.

Sheriff Pember took from the cells of Leonard and Kroutenberg this afternoon, two saws and crowbar, which had been passed through the windows by outside parties. The sheriff has been watching them for several days being aware that they possessed the tools. They had nearly succeeded in removing the shackles when the officers interfered.

TO SCOUT FOR BROWNS—FRED LAKE.

Fred Lake, former manager of the Boston Nationals, has severed his connection with that team. He has accepted terms from President Hedges of the St. Louis Americans to act as scout for the Browns. Lake's contract with the Boston Nationals was satisfactorily adjusted. He had another year, under a salary of $5,000, with the Boston team when Fred Tenny was chosen to succeed him.

THIS WARSHIP HAS NO CREW

Vessel Directed and Operated From Shore by Means of Wireless Is the Latest.

New York.—The "crewless" warship, a vessel directed and operated from shore by means of a complicated wireless apparatus, is the latest naval wonder in Germany, according to reports which have just reached the navy men here.

Within a radius of 18 miles from the controlling apparatus the new warship, it is said, can be started, stopped, steered and its guns controlled or fired by means of electrical waves communicated without wires.

The German naval experts are making experiments with a motor boat near Nuremberg. The statements of an eye witness who watched the progress of some of these trials is published here.

"The boat," he says, "was absolutely unmanned. All the apparatus on board was controlled from the bank of the lake by means of wireless telegraphy.

"When I first arrived the boat was lying motionless in the middle of the lake. No one was on board. Suddenly a gun was fired on the deck and I saw the screw begin to revolve and drive the boat forward.

"I watched the maneuvers of the unmanned boat for an hour during the daytime and again in the evening. At the end of each test the unmanned vessel was brought to her anchorage by the same unseen forces."

CO-EDS AID A BLIND SENIOR

Girls Forego Luxuries and Allowances to Enable Sightless Student to Graduate.

New York.—Seniors at Barnard college, by sacrificing luxuries and donating part of their allowances have enabled Margaret Hogan, a blind student, to secure her degree.

Miss Hogan, blind from birth and left an orphan when young, won a three-year scholarship at Barnard. Her advance was rapid. A wealthy woman became interested and took care of the girl up to the present year.

Miss Hogan was about to leave college to earn her own living when her classmates heard of it. They raised $450 among themselves for the girl.

Expense of Yale Students. New Haven, Conn.—It costs a Yale man at least $1,000 a year on an average to go through the course at that university. A postal card canvass of last year's freshmen class shows that 114 spent an average of $1,033 each, 117 sophomores $1,100, and 119 juniors $1,133.

The lavish expenditures of a few men sent up the general average. Nineteen freshmen used less than $600 each, 18 sophomores less than $550 each, and 18 juniors less than $500. Of the 53 men last mentioned, 30 lived on less than $375.

Breaking It Gently. "Did she tell you I was a rare character?"

"Not in those exact words, but that was probably the meaning she sought to convey."

"What, exactly, did she say?"

"She said your ways were rather raw."

WOULD TAKE LANDED HOLDINGS FROM ORIENTALS.

Sacramento, Cal.—Two bills introduced in the state senate revive the proposition of the last session that Japanese be denied the right to hold land in this state. Senator E. O. Larkins, representative of Visalia, being the author of one, and Senator J. B. Sanford, democrat of Ukiah, of the other.

Larkins' measure is brief, amending section 471 of the civil code to provide that it shall be unlawful for persons not citizens of the United States, or who have not lawfully declared their intention to become citizens, to acquire, own or hold real estate, except such as they have acquired by inheritance, or in the collection of debts.

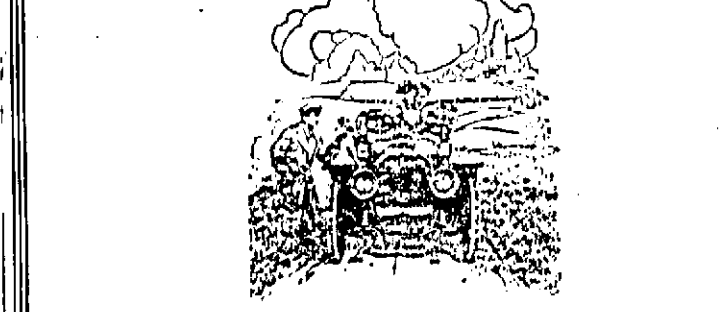

In the ordinary course of justice. Another exception lets them have a reasonable amount of real estate for residential or commercial purposes. This bill may be too general in its terms to be effective.

Sanford's measure is lengthy and detailed. It provides that no alien who is not eligible to citizenship shall acquire title to or own land or real property in the state, although it records such alien's full personal property rights.

This denial of possessory rights is not to apply to land or real property now owned by such aliens so long as their ownership continues, but all others who acquire ownership by devise or descent, or in the collection of a debt, can hold it only for five years from the commencement of their ownership. They may convey to others legally entitled to hold, but not in trust to evade the law.

The district attorney of every county is charged with the bringing of proceedings to enforce property held in contravention of the law.

Relics in Dispute.

An incident at Milan recalls the story of the attorney, the disputants and the oyster, that is, if we can compare things sacred with things profane. There are two churches there—St. Vitale and St. Ambrogio—each claiming to possess in its crypt the remains of St. Siro. This dispute between the two churches waxed so hot that the Holy See had to intervene. A commission was appointed to investigate the rival claims, and ten years have been spent on the inquiry. The commission has decided that the true bones of St. Siro repose in the church of St. Vitale. But this decision made matters worse, so the pope has ordered that the bones from each of the churches shall be placed in the same tomb in the cathedral, and there henceforth the faithful factions will venerate the relics.—London Globe.
